

67 YORK STREET

PRESS RELEASE FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Small businesses supporting small businesses

67 York Street has launched to support small design and craft led businesses with affordable retail and showroom space in London's chicest district; Marylebone.

Following a successful launch in June 2017, 67 York Street is now welcoming applications from design and craft led brands to showcase and sell collections from their gallery in Marylebone, London.

The June launch (in collaboration with Utopia & Utility, Kalevala Gin and Crafts Magazine) attracted over 150 guests and generated significant sales and brand awareness for Utopia & Utility.

About

67 York Street is a collaborative project to offer design and craft led brands a platform to sell, showcase and raise profiles within London's chicest district; Marylebone.

Our Aim is to support these businesses through affordable retail space, marketing and business support.

The Team

67 York Street was born from a desire to support small businesses by small business owners; Panos Nicolaou (Business Director) of Cult Vision, Marianne van Gils Nicolaou (Operations Director) of AllerGuard and Louisa Pacifico (Creative Director) of Future Icons.

Panos and Marianne have successfully managed 5 international product led brands as well as opened 14 retail stores across the UK. Collectively, Panos and Marianne will manage and maintain the operations and building of 67 York Street.

Louisa brings 13 years of design and craft industry experience. From managing international design event Clerkenwell Design Week to heading designer-maker charity Craft Central as Chief Executive, Louisa will curate 67 York Streets programme of event to ensure quality, originality and appropriateness for the surrounding area.

QUOTE

'We are looking forward to welcoming and supporting UK and International brands to take over 67 York Street. With a high turnover to shows, we hope 67 York Street will become a weekly destination for London's design conscious consumers'
